

Web editors forum - homepage discussion

Posted: Thursday 11th August 2011

Blog: Web support blog \(/websupport/blog\)

Tuesday 9th August saw the first new style web editors forum take place. It was great to see so many people there. These forums will be taking place once a fortnight and any member of the web community on campus is welcome to attend. Each forum will have a main topic but there will also be an update from the Web Services Team and an opportunity for people to ask any questions they have.

This meetings main focus was the homepage. As the site has been up and running for nearly a year now (where has the time gone!?) it's a good time to take stock of what we currently have and how we can make it better for our users.

So over the coming weeks Thom is going to be looking at the suggestions that were raised and putting together proposals for improvements for the homepage. Stay tuned for more information, and if you have anything you'd like to talk about, please feel free to comment on this blog.

We'll be looking at rolling out a forum in the near future so you can use that to share ideas, advice and queries.

Feedback

Add Your Feedback

Name (optional)

Email (optional)

Url (optional)

Comments (optional)

