

June 2013 Newsletter

People

Congratulations to David Garrec who successfully defended his thesis on Monday and will graduate this summer.

In other changes, Lucie Villedieu has sadly chosen to leave the Programme and Benyamin Asadipour Farsani has decided to switch to the MRes degree instead. We wish them well for the future.

Exams

We will be writing to you over the summer with an update of your Module marks, so please check your record and get back in touch if there is a mistake. The Module Timetable is normally finalised in August, so once we have it we will send it out.

Funding

We are through to the Final Round for funding the next 50 studentships, so we will be interviewed in October and hear if we have been successful by Christmas. Please ensure your web page profile is complete with all your conferences and publications.

Summer Holidays/Conferences

If you are planning a summer holiday, please ensure you inform your academic and industrial supervisors. Richard will be away at three conferences in August so will not be around for the entire month. Similarly he has events in Newcastle, Manchester, Bristol and Porto in the next few weeks.