

January 2015 Newsletter

New Starter

A big welcome to Catherine Ellerby who will be starting in February and working with Serafim/Peter/Kostas in connection with P&G on the subject of Biofilms.

EngD Conference, 31st March – 1st April 2015

You should have received numerous emails from Kathleen, so please follow the instructions in a timely manner. You might want to book hotels now.

Exams

We will be writing to you late Feb/early March with an update on your module marks to date, along with the results from the January exams.

Submissions

Congratulations to James Champion for submitting within four years and to Rob Blissett and Chris Hewitt for also submitting their Theses.

EngD Holiday

We will be going to Riga from 3rd – 5th June for a few days. Contact Richard for the specific flight details, but it is a Ryanair flight from East Midlands Airport.

Logo Competition

We are booked in to talk with Design and Publications to discuss how to turn the winning design(s) into the new logo for the Centre. The winner will be announced at the Conference.
