

April 2016 Newsletter

Just a short Newsletter this month as we saw you all recently.

New Starters

A warm welcome a new starter this month. Amy Voong will be working with Rich Products, Dr Tom Mills and Professor Ian Norton.

Octoberfest

Octoberfest will be running once again this year on Wednesday October 19th, so please block the day off in your diary and be prepared to bring a poster along.

Next CDT Conference

The next Conference will probably be back to back with the IChemE Chem Day which will be hosted in Birmingham on 27th and 28th March, so the Conference will probably be on 29th and 30th March so as to minimise travel expenses. We strongly encourage you to attend both events especially final year students as there is a Three Minute Thesis Competition and Poster Competition with Prizes. If you are smart then you can use the same abstract/poster for both Conferences.

Other Conferences

I am off to the Formulation Conference in Barcelona in early July. Please remind me if you are also going.

EngD Holiday

I believe Malta received the most votes but unfortunately I have no free weekends until July, when the prices go up and it gets busy. I suggest those interested in a weekend away together better get on with booking it or we reschedule for early autumn. Please let Zoe know. Remember that if you are booking summer holidays now, to let your Industrial and Academic Supervisors know in advance.
