2012 European Convention for Deans in Engineering
Organised by SEFI, CESAEER and University of Birmingham
Hosted by the University of Birmingham

29-30 March 2012

“Tomorrow's engineers – for an attractive Europe: Working Together to Build on Europe’s Excellence in Engineering Education and Research”

Sessions and Themes:
Deconstructing and reconstructing engineering at universities
Attracting and keeping talent (staff and students)
Attractiveness of engineering education: HE STEM Programme, UK

and a round table:
Equipping Graduates with the Right Skills

invited Speakers
Ir. A. Kamp, TU Delft, NL; Prof. Dr.-Ing. Jürgen Becker, KIT, GE; Prof. Katrina Nordström, Aalto University, FI; Prof. Hervé Biaussier, Ecole Centrale Paris, FR; Prof. Mervyn Jones, Imperial College, UK; Prof. Adam Tickell, University of Birmingham, UK; Michael Grove, HE STEM Programme, UK; Jeremy Buckle, Event Director, The Big Bang; Annette Smart, HE STEM Programme and University of Birmingham, UK; Mrs. Lucia Recalde, European Commission – DG EAC, Unit C2 - EIT and economic partnerships; Prof. Anne-Marie Hermansson, Chalmers University of Technology, SE; Prof. Helen Atkinson, President of the Engineering Professors’ Council and University of Leicester, UK; Prof Alison Hodge, Bristol University, UK; Mr David Waide, Director Chassis, Jaguar and Land Rover, UK; Xavier Fouger, Director - Dassault Systemes Global Learning and PLM Academy, FR

Please register before the 2nd of March

For details, registration and the detailed programme, please visit: www.birmingham.ac.uk/eced2012