

ESRC Seminar Series – Youth Mental Health & Wellbeing

‘Future Directions for Digital Resources in Youth Mental health’

How can the digital revolution best support Youth mental health and service design?

9.30 – 4.30 Friday 23rd March 2018

Theatre 6 Arts Building (R16) University of Birmingham
University of Birmingham, B15 2TT

Forward Thinking Birmingham in collaboration with the Institute for Mental Health at the University of Birmingham, University of Greenwich, National University College Dublin, University of Ireland, Galway and the University of Nottingham invite you to the last in a series of nine seminars on youth mental health and wellbeing.

PROGRAMME

9.00-9.30 Registration

MORNING SESSION (Chair Dr Maria Michail, University of Birmingham)

9.30-9.40	Welcome	Professor Matthew Broome, Institute for Mental Health, University of Birmingham
9.40-10.00	Overview of day	Dr Paul Patterson, Forward Thinking Birmingham
10.00-10.30	Young people's engagement with health-related social media: New Perspectives	Dr Victoria Goodyear, University of Birmingham
10.30-11.00	Nudes, dick pics and Jeremy Hunt	Professor Andy Phippen, University of Plymouth

11.00-11.20 Coffee break

11.20-11.50	Does Artificial Intelligence represent hype or an opportunity for youth mental health?	Dr Christopher Yau, University of Birmingham
11.50-12.20	Bridging Realities - designing a virtual world to engage and treat young people with psychosis	Dr Andrew Thompson, University of Warwick
12.20-12.40	Panel Discussion

12.40-13.40 LUNCH & NETWORKING

AFTERNOON SESSION (Chair: Dr Paul Patterson, Forward Thinking Birmingham)

13.40-14.10	What Young People Really Think	Think4brum Digital
14.10-14.40	Imaginator: developing a digital tool-based intervention for young people who self-harm	Dr Martina De Simplicio, Imperial College London
14.40-15.10	Accessing online data for youth mental health: meeting the ethical challenges	Dr Elvira Perez, University of Nottingham

15.10-15.30 Coffee break

15.30-16.00	Recognising and asking about suicidality in primary care – the case for an electronic guided decision making tool	Matthew Horrocks, University of Nottingham
16.00-16.20	Panel Discussion
16.20-16.30	Summary and closing remarks	Dr Maria Michail, University of Birmingham