

UNIVERSITY OF
BIRMINGHAM

Are you looking for a research visit or post-doc position at a top lab overseas to enhance your knowledge and skills?

2 year fellowship opportunity at the University of Birmingham

European Fellowship

Funding is available from the European research programme, Horizon 2020 to support positions and research costs at the University Birmingham.

For Brazilian researchers to spend up to 2 years at Birmingham.

Applications in the following research themes would be especially welcome, although strong applications in other areas will also be considered:

Cancer Studies/Infectious Diseases/Microbiology and Infection
Sustainable cities/International Security
Energy – Oil and Gas/Earth Sciences/Energy – Storage and Policy
Bio-materials
Translation Studies

R$210,000* salary including travel and family allowance.

Research costs on top Can start anytime between March 2017 and July 2018

*before tax, at end of May 2016. Salary is estimated without family allowance to be around £42,000

Deadline - 14th September 2016

Expressions of interest are invited at any time but no later than 17th June 2016 to Sally Wilely at:
s.a.wiley@bham.ac.uk

- Good publication track record
- Invitations, presentations, and/or papers at well-established workshops, conferences and seminars
- Involved in organizing workshops/conferences
- Obtained some research funding
- Member of Review Panels or editorial boards
- Academic/Professional memberships
- Advisory or other academic committee membership
- Prizes or other awards for research and/or other related achievements
- Leadership, teaching and/or supervisory experience
- Public engagement/knowledge transfer activities
- Previous mobility/international experience
- Patents