Social Enterprise

We are both Entrepreneurs in Residence

WE-LEAD combines Engaged scholarship research with a sustained commitment to work with a variety of stakeholders on issues of social and economic importance. The aim of the Centre for Women's Enterprise, Leadership, Economy & Diversity is to engage with policy makers, academics, support providers and businesses to answer important social science questions about female enterprise. Our interdisciplinary work focuses on the role of leadership, family business, and diversity by pioneering innovative ways of blending research with real business issues, catalysing high quality research into policy and practice.

Business
(On the Ground)

What are we going to talk about?

5 things that we have learned so far... and which we believe are critical for the growth and increased productivity within a business

With a focus on the key role of

Leadership

Q. What is leadership?

It's often about getting from Point A to Point B
Working as a Team to do it

#1 People are your greatest asset

Michael Akinyemi, Nina Yu, James O'Toole, Jessica Cho and Ronnie Versher Jr.

 Backgrounds

 Experience

 Expertise

#2 All People can display “Leadership”

A business contains a “TEAM OF POTENTIAL LEADERS”

...each person can lead in their respective areas if given the chance.

The trick is to get people working together;
not *against each other

#3 Delegate where possible

Verb

“Entrust (a task or responsibility) to another person, typically one who is less senior than oneself.”

Q. Why do Leaders need to delegate?

Develop others

Show trust and belief in subordinates

Free up time for more important tasks

Efficiency

Lack skill

Empower People

Situational Awareness – *maintaining control of the Big Picture

#4 Know your People

Leaders understand...

- Strengths and Weaknesses (incl. their own)
- What motivates individuals
- People's aspirations for the future
- What's going on in People's lives
- Those that may require extra Training & Support

A Team is only as strong as its weakest member

#5 Keep things Simple - especially directions to subordinates

“If you can't explain it simply, you don't understand it well enough.” – Albert Einstein

Hints & Tips

How can you view the Problem you are tackling in a NEW LIGHT?

How can you give subordinates the chance to maximise their IMPACT?

How can you utilise your subordinates more effectively to EXECUTE any proposed solution and get to Point B FASTER?

Leadership is often about articulating your Vision

In Summary

People are your greatest asset

All People can display “Leadership”

Delegate where possible

Know your People

Keep Things Simple

Finally...

A Leader is typically...

- Providing Direction
- Inspiring Achievement
- Bringing out the Best
- Supporting different Viewpoints
- Maintaining Control
- Taking Responsibility

Q. What is a Leader doing at a given point along the curve?

Serving the Team and helping to Maximise Performance
