'I was looking to increase the positive impact and value I was able to bring to my organisation. I was therefore keen to undertake an MBA that would allow me to acquire procurement-specific skills and knowledge whilst developing a broader understanding and perspective of the business world. I was also motivated by my longer-term career plans. An MBA can provide the platform for students to make a step change in their career and can continue to open up more career opportunities in the future.'

I have recently taken on an opportunity at AstraZeneca plc as a Global Category Manager supporting their Global Medicines Development organisation. The pharmaceutical industry is an exciting and rewarding place to work. There is currently a lot of positive change taking place at AstraZeneca and I look forward to being a part of that progression and continuing to develop my career there.'
