INTERNATIONAL STUDENT GUIDE 2018-19

Vice-Chancellor's welcome

Congratulations on your offer of a place at the University of Birmingham. We are delighted that you are planning to join us.

We are delighted that you are considering coming to study at the University of Birmingham.

The University is home to some of the most outstanding faculty in the world. For more than a century, research from our University has created a major impact on the city, the region and the world, having a lasting impact on lives, culture, industry and society: our current research continues to create innovative, grounded and enduring solutions to some of the world's biggest issues. From world-class cancer research to pioneering the development of new fuels, our academic expertise continues to address the key challenges facing the modern-day world. Our Birmingham Heroes' web-page contains information about this research.

These are exciting times for the University: we are undergoing one of the most dynamic campus redevelopment schemes in our history, investing close to £500 million over the next few years.

Work is now underway to create the Green Heart at the centre of campus following the demolition of the former library. Measuring over 12 acres, the Green Heart project will open up the centre of campus for students, staff and the local community to enjoy. It will provide a unique space for performances, socialising, meeting and studying, while opening up views across the whole campus, as envisaged in the 1920s. The space will also enhance the setting of those buildings which border the Green Heart, including the new library which opened in September 2016. It will open up new pedestrian and cycle routes, allowing students, staff and visitors to the campus to travel safely and with ease. Throughout the design process, we have sought to create a sustainable, natural and environmentally friendly landscape; both for people and wildlife. The Green Heart will open in early 2019.

The United Kingdom is home to one of the highest performing university systems in the world and the UK is second only to the United States for global research outputs, the quality of its best institutions, the impact of its research, and the production of an educated workforce that meets labour market needs. The University of Birmingham is recognised globally as a leader for higher education, delivering excellent teaching, and maintaining its reputation of being at the forefront of research.

For more than a century, the University of Birmingham's pioneering research has had a global impact that has made headlines around the world. From the invention of the key component of the microwave to the discovery of a new solar system and one of the world's oldest Qur'an manuscripts, we combine original thinking with clear focus and rigour. Our world-leading experts are constantly in demand, helping to shape and contribute to debates that matter through high-profile media appearances and our own publications. In 2018, the University of Birmingham will open its first international branch campus, in Dubai, situated within Dubai's International Academic City.

We are proud to be part of the wider international diversity of the city of Birmingham. Birmingham is the most culturally diverse city in the UK. Outside London, Birmingham has the UK's largest Muslim, Sikh and Buddhist communities, the second largest Hindu community and the seventh largest Jewish community. The city's Sikh celebrations of Vaisakhi are the largest in Europe, and the Eid celebrations in the city at the end of Ramadan are one of the biggest in the UK. Birmingham has a large Irish community and its St Patrick's Day Parade is the third biggest in the world (after New York and Dublin), with more than 80,000 people turning out to celebrate the occasion.

As an international student we know that your time at Birmingham will be exciting, challenging, academically rewarding, and enjoyable. You will play an important role in enriching and enhancing the experience for all our students and staff, helping to shape the

The University and your visa

The University holds a UK Visas and Immigration (UKVI) Tier 4 Sponsor licence which allows us to recruit and retain international students. As a Tier 4 Sponsor, the University must meet UKVI duties including monitoring your arrival, progress and attendance. The University informs UKVI if you do not arrive and register at the start of your course, if you withdraw or take a leave of absence or if you fail to make your points of contact throughout the year.

For full information about your responsibilities as a University of Birmingham Tier 4 sponsored student and on the University's reporting responsibilities please read the Tier 4 students – Guidance on International Students Responsibilities 2018/19 within our web pages. intranet.birmingham.ac.uk/as/student-services/international/index.aspx

Common Travel Area

This information is applicable to those nationals who arrive via the Common Travel Area.

What type of student visa do I need?

Our website explains the types of visa you can apply for, the documents needed, how to apply and what to do if your application is refused. As UK immigration rules can change very quickly it is important to use the most up-to-date information when applying for a visa <https://intranet.birmingham.ac.uk/as/student-services/international/visas/index.aspx>

Biometric Residence Permit ( BRP ) collection from University of Birmingham

Students coming to the UK for six months or longer will be granted a temporary (30-day) visa, and will need to collect a Biometric Residence Permit (BRP) on arrival in the UK. You should enter the University of Birmingham alternative location code (ALC) code when completing your visa application form to ensure your BRP card is delivered to the University campus. # Finance

There are a number of services in the University that offer financial support and advice.

The Student Funding, Graduation and Awards Office

Funding, Graduation & Awards provides information and advice about financial support available to students including scholarships for international students.

Tuition fees

The deadline for making payment of your tuition fee is 12 October 2018. You must either pay in full, apply for instalment payments via Direct Debit for which you will need a UK bank account or provide your sponsor details when registering online. For more information on the payment methods available please visit: www.birmingham.ac.uk/student-fees

Please note: non-payment of tuition fees may lead to you being excluded from the University. If you become excluded, this may have a serious effect on your visa and may mean you have to leave the UK.

Living costs

In addition to tuition fees, you will need to make provision for your living costs. The University offers a range of accommodation choices to suit your budget but you will also need to budget for other essential expenses that you will need to be aware of. For further details please see www.birmingham.ac.uk/undergraduate/support/moneyadvice/living.aspx

How much money should I bring with me to the UK?

The amount of cash that can be taken in and out of the UK is no more than €10,000. For more information please visit www.gov.uk/bringing-cash-into-uk

If you have been offered a room in self-catered University accommodation, we would recommend that you bring no more than £600 in cash or preferably on a prepaid travel card. This will cover your first month's food, bedding and basic kitchen equipment, which you will need to provide yourself.

If you are depositing an international bank draft in a UK bank, you will not be able to draw any money against it for at least three working days after you have opened a bank account.

How do I budget for my time in the UK?

The UNIAID International Student Calculator helps you plan and manage your money for your studies in the UK. You can access the calculator at <https://study-uk.britishcouncil.org/planning/money-costs>

Arriving in the UK

What happens when I arrive at Airport Immigration Control in the UK?

If you travel to the UK, you will probably arrive at Heathrow, Gatwick or Birmingham airport. It is also possible to arrive by sea via one of the Channel Ports or by Eurostar. In each case you will go through UK Immigration Control. Please note that UK and the Republic of Ireland are part of a Common Travel Area, and there is no immigration control on arrival in the UK: this can cause a problem for non-visa nationals on short courses. Non-visa nationals should therefore not travel via the Republic of Ireland, or should apply for entry clearance before travelling. (see page 4)

- ✓ You need to show the following to the Immigration Officer:
  - Passport containing valid Entry Clearance Visa or Biometric Residence Permit (BRP)
  - Completed landing card, including your full address. If you have not yet finalised your accommodation, you can use the University of Birmingham address which is : University of Birmingham, Edgbaston, Birmingham, B15 2TT.
- ✓ The Immigration Officer might ask to see evidence that you meet the requirements of your visa ie, a copy of your CAS statement and bank statement or other financial documents to show that you have enough money for your fees and living costs for your studies.
- ✓ Check your passport when the Immigration Officer returns it to you, to see if they have made any changes to your conditions (for example, by adding a requirement for you to register with the police). If you are unsure why the Immigration Officer has changed your visa, contact the ISAS.
- ✓ If there are any problems please ring the ISAS immediately on +44 (0) 121 414 8464 and ask to speak to an adviser. In evenings or at weekends you should ring University Security. Security can be contacted on: +44 (0) 121 414 4444.
- ✓ Be prepared to speak English, as the Immigration Officer will speak to you and expect you to answer in English.

Declaring cash when you arrive in the UK

When you enter the UK you MUST declare the cash that you are carrying if this amounts to €10,000 or more (including cheques, travellers cheques and bankers drafts) to HM Revenue and Customs (the government tax office).

You will find the relevant forms to fill out at ports and airports. You will be responsible for financial penalties if you fail to declare the money or provide incomplete or incorrect information. The only exception to this requirement is if you are travelling to or from another EU country (you will not need to declare cash over €10,000).

Learn more on the HM Revenue and Customs website: www.hmrc.gov.uk

Airport Collection Service (Meet and Greet)

A free airport collection is available for new international students who will be arriving at London Heathrow and Birmingham airports between Friday 21 and Sunday 23 September 2018. If you would like to use this service you will need to register in advance and we advise that you book early to guarantee your place.

For collection times and to book a seat please visit www.birmingham.ac.uk/welcome/airportcollection

Airport collection bookings will open in June/July 2018

Note: If you use the free airport collection service, there will be a limit on the amount of luggage you can bring on the coach. There will be a limit of one large item of luggage and two small items. For example, in addition to a suitcase you could bring a cabin-sized case and a handbag. If you have more than this, please make your own arrangements to get your extra belongings shipped to the UK.

When you visit our booking website you will find information about the 'Meet and Greet' team and how to identify them.

Travelling on your own to the University

If you plan to travel to the University independently it is advisable to carefully plan your journey in advance. For travel guidance please visit www.birmingham.ac.uk/welcome/travel.aspx

Can I advance mail and store my luggage?

The University cannot accept mail or store any luggage sent in advance. If you want to bring more belongings with you than you can take on your flight, we recommend that you have them shipped over when you have settled into your accommodation. Alternatively, some private companies can arrange for your luggage to be shipped in advance and stored until you arrive.

Delayed or lost luggage

Luggage can sometimes be delayed or mislaid and not arrive with your flight. If, after waiting by the luggage carousel, your luggage does not arrive you should follow these steps:

- ✓ Do not leave the luggage collection area – you must first go to the helpdesk/luggage enquiries desk and tell the official there that your luggage has not arrived. If there is no one at the helpdesk/luggage enquiries desk, go to the customs desk for assistance. You will be asked for the following items, so have them ready:
  - Your ticket, showing your luggage receipts and flight details
  - A description of the missing luggage
  - Your address in the UK (if you have arranged accommodation in advance, like halls of residence) or the address of the University 24-hour security point (if you have not arranged accommodation in advance): Security Centre, Aston Webb Building, University of Birmingham, Edgbaston, Birmingham, B15 2TT (Security Control Room tel: +44 (0)121 414 4444)

Once the airport official has taken all your details, they will explain the airline's procedures for dealing with lost luggage and will give you:

- A reference number (with possibly a form)
- A telephone number for you to call for any news, or a website address (the official may be able to find out where your luggage is at that time, or you may have to wait for news)

Remember:

- Ask the official if they have a free emergency overnight kit, which will contain toiletries such as a toothbrush
- Do not leave Immigration Control without reporting your lost luggage otherwise you will not receive any compensation
- Tell the University's 'Meet and Greet' Welcome Team that you have lost luggage
- Pack a few essentials in your hand luggage, which you can rely on if you lose your luggage

If you take medication on a daily basis it is important that you should carry this in your hand luggage. Please ensure you have a letter from medical professionals in English to confirm that you are required to travel with the listed medication.

If you loose any luggage please inform the Welcome Team/ISAS immediately.

- ✓ Call the airline every 12 hours or check on their website – delayed luggage is normally delivered within 72 hours
- ✓ Check your luggage when it arrives for damaged or missing items – if there are any problems, notify the airline immediately, or you may not be eligible for compensation

Welcome Week 2018

During Welcome Week the University and the Guild of Students (your students' union) provide a range of activities that you can attend. These events are designed to help you become familiar with the University and its campus and the services that are available to you during your studies, and to help you make friends with other students.

Why should you attend Welcome Week?

- It will help you make new friends through social events
- You will be able to find out about the support services available to you on campus
- Attend social events, talks and departmental welcome events to help you settle at the University
- Take part in University tours to help you familiarise yourself with your new environment

www.birmingham.ac.uk/welcome

What is a Right to Study Check?

If you are a non-EEA national you will need a visa to come to the UK. To complete your registration you must have a 'Right to Study Check' where we check your visa. Please ensure you bring your boarding pass and flight ticket with you to the Right to Study Check. It may be required by an adviser.

You will either have:

- A vignette (visa sticker) in your passport which was placed there when your entry clearance visa was granted
- A stamp that was put in your passport when you arrived at the airport (this applies to non-visa nationals who are here for courses of less than six months)
- A biometric residence permit – this is a pink card that you will have been issued with when you extended your leave in the UK

The University is obliged by UKVI to check that the visa you hold permits study in the UK and is appropriate for the course you want to study. You must bring your original documents to the Welcome Marquee in Chancellors Court (in front of R6 on your campus map) where these will be checked, after which you can go and get your ID card. If there are any problems there will be an adviser available to give you advice.

Registering with the police

Students of certain nationalities are required to register with the police and this is a legal requirement which will usually apply to these students and any dependants who travel with them.

To find out if you need to register check your visa decision letter. You must register if your visa decision letter states:

- ✓ 'Register with UK police on arrival', or
- ✓ 'Register with the police within seven days'

You must do this within seven days of your arrival in the UK either at Welcome Week or at your local police station – ISAS will be able to advise you on this OR register to make an appointment with the police at www.west-midlands.overseasregistrations.uk

Studying at the University

Is study in the UK different from study in my own country?

You may find that methods of study in the UK are different from study that you have been used to. At the University we have an enquiry-based learning (EBL) culture.

What is enquiry-based learning (EBL)?

EBL allows you to experience a range of teaching methods that aim to challenge and encourage you to have your own ideas.

This is achieved through:

- Reading and independent research
- Discussions and working with other students
- Self-motivation – you must have the dedication to study independently
- Setting yourself realistic goals
- Managing your time effectively and reflecting on what and how you learn

Will I be able to find help to do this?

Yes, your school will explain how EBL works in your studies. Some general aspects are:

- Being a student at University is about being independent – taking responsibility for your studies
- The lecturers are there to guide you and show you where to go, but it is up to you to do the research!
- You will be given a broad outline of what is required but you will be expected to bring to it your own perspective

What types of teaching methods can I expect?

- Lectures – academic staff share their knowledge with you but you are expected to do extra reading around your subject
- Analytical skills – you are expected to critically evaluate the information you receive in, for example, lectures

- Seminars – give you a very important opportunity to discuss and develop your ideas in small groups; an opportunity to talk and listen to the ideas of other students
- Tutorials – small groups or sometimes one-to-one sessions that allow you to reflect on your progress

If you would like support to help you adjust to our learning culture or to improve your learning skills, speak to your personal tutor or supervisor.

Your School will organise an induction so that you can meet your lecturers and other students. Details of the date and time of your academic induction will be sent to you.

What type of academic support can I expect from the University?

We expect you to enjoy your studies and perform well on your course but there may be times when you have some difficulties, eg, if you are ill and are not able to attend classes. There are a number of ways in which you can receive advice and support for any academic problems that you have during your studies, for example, essay writing, presentation skills, literature reviews and others.

Personal tutor and School senior tutor

You will be given a personal tutor who will meet with you regularly throughout your time at the University. The role of the personal tutor is to:

- Monitor your academic performance
- Help you with any difficulties that you may have
- Be your first point of contact for any academic problems that you have during your studies

Each School/Department at the University has a senior tutor who oversees the quality of the personal tutorials.

Guild Advice

The student Guild can provide academic support, guidance and representation.

The Student Rep System

Student Reps can provide valuable experience and advice regarding your teaching or learning.

Welfare tutor

Each University School/Department has a welfare tutor for you to contact if you are experiencing personal problems that interfere with your academic work. You can speak to the welfare tutor in confidence. Sometimes the welfare tutor may refer you to another University support service for more specialist help and advice. If you do not know who your personal tutor or your welfare tutor is you should contact your school at the University. For further information please visit the following link: <https://intranet.birmingham.ac.uk/as/student-services/projects/support/welfare-tutors.aspx>

Student Support Services

At the University of Birmingham there are a number of services you can go to should you need help, advice or guidance.

University Graduate School (UGS)

A significant proportion of postgraduate researchers are international students, who make a major and valued contribution to research here. UGS acts as a central resource point, giving postgraduate researchers access to a wealth of services to support them in their research and acting as a gateway to information for postgraduate researchers on funding, careers development, University regulations, and administrative processes, as well as academic and social opportunities for development. Comprehensive information can be found on its website.

Westmere is the Postgraduate Researcher hub at the University of Birmingham. Westmere House (G15 on the campus map) is an event and social space for all postgraduate researchers and UGS are keen to encourage postgraduate researchers to use the space to organise their own events. There are also five Westmere Scholars (one from each College), who lead the way in bringing our postgraduate researchers from across disciplines together for social and networking events.

ISAS advice on health and wellbeing

The National Health Service (NHS)

The NHS is the UK's state health service. If your course is for six months or more and you have paid the Immigration Health Surcharge, you will be entitled to NHS treatment. This means consulting with a Doctor and treatment at Hospital will be free of charge. You may be required to pay for other services such as prescriptions for medicines. For more information please visit the UKCISA website at www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Studying--living-in-the-UK/Health-and-healthcare

Optical treatment

Eye tests in the UK are done by Opticians. You will normally be charged for an eye test unless you are under 19 years old and in full-time study. For more information please visit the UKCISA website at www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Studying--living-in-the-UK/Health-and-healthcare and University of Birmingham www.birmingham.ac.uk/welcome/before-you-start/health-and-wellbeing/index.aspx

Registering with a Doctor

It is important that you register with a Doctor as soon as possible after arriving at university. In the UK, Doctors who are your main point of contact for medical issues are referred to as GPs (General Practitioner). If you are in need of non-urgent hospital treatment you must be referred by your GP, rather than visiting hospital yourself.

Due to its location close to campus many students choose to register with the University Medical Practice which is located on Pritchatts Road. In order to register please visit the practice, bringing with you your student visa and student ID card. For more information visit www.theump.co.uk

Dental care

There is a charge for all dental treatment in the UK but it is less expensive to be treated through the NHS than as a private patient. To find a dentist in Birmingham you should use the NHS choices website to find services near you: www.nhs.uk

Medical emergencies

If you or someone you are with needs urgent medical assistance you must telephone 999. This number is free to call from all phones including mobiles. You will need to request an ambulance and be prepared to give details of where you are and what has happened. If you require emergency treatment but feel you are well enough to travel you can visit Accident and Emergency (A&E) at a hospital. The closest A&E to the University is located at Queen Elizabeth Hospital. Emergency medical treatment is free even if you do not qualify for general NHS treatment.

Sexual health

British attitudes to sex may be different from those in your own country. It is often accepted that people who are involved in a relationship may have sex together. Of course, the choice is a personal one. You are entirely free to live according to your personal standards and should not feel pressured to adopt those of your fellow students.

If you think you will be sexually active or just wish to find out more information, it is important that you find out about contraception in the UK. You can get advice on this from your doctor or from a local family planning clinic (FPC). If you qualify for NHS treatment, you are entitled to free contraceptives and advice on birth control from the FPC. FPCs also provide free cervical smear and pregnancy tests. www.nhs.uk

Travel insurance

It is essential that you take out travel insurance to cover your journey to the UK. This should cover delays, medical emergencies and the cost of replacing any belongings, ie, lost luggage. While you are living in the UK we strongly advise you to have insurance to cover the contents of your room/flat and belongings.

Cultural adjustment

Coming to live in another country can be at times very exciting and enjoyable and at other times it might not feel too good. This is normal. Everyone who lives in another country will find that they have days when they miss their own food, their families, their friends or their weather, and just generally do not feel so happy. You will go through stages when you will feel excited about the UK and the University and times when you will not. It is normal to have good days and bad days but it is important to know how to help yourself. Here are a few tips that may help you to cope with cultural adjustment:

- Keep in touch with home through Skype, email, letters, FaceTime, telephone, Snapchat or Messenger
- Keep familiar things in your room such as photographs
- Join the University gym and take regular exercise – it can also be a good way of meeting people
- Make friends with other students – learn about other cultures
- If you want someone to talk to about how you are feeling you can make use of the University support services, where there will always be professional and experienced staff on hand
- If you are finding your studies a little difficult, talk to your personal tutor
- For some students their faith community will be very important – check with the Chaplaincy for more information
- The Guild of Students has lots of groups and societies where there will be opportunities to meet new people

Opening a UK bank account

Having a UK bank account is essential if you are studying in the UK for more than six months. You can find some branches of the main banks on the University campus. We advise that you compare the accounts of a few banks, and ask them what they can offer you before you make your choice.

When you arrive you can visit various banks and choose the one which you feel will be best for you.

There are many international banks in Birmingham city centre and if you have an account with them in your home country, you may find opening a UK account with them easier than with a new bank.

When choosing a bank account, ask:

- ✓ Will I have internet and telephone banking?
- ✓ Does it have standing order and direct debit facilities?

- ✓ What type of savings accounts do I have?
- ✓ Will I be required to maintain a minimum account balance or pay a monthly fee?
- ✓ Is there an overdraft facility?

For information on opening a bank account, please see: www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Studying--living-in-the-UK/Opening-a-bank-account

Living in the UK

As well as being the UK's second city, Birmingham is one of Europe's most exciting cities. Its rich heritage, modern commercial centre and cultural diversity make it a vibrant and exciting place to live and study. This Section is about the things you need to do when you arrive and things you can do including shopping and visiting tourist sites during your studies.

What do I need to do?

Council Tax

As an international student you may have to pay Council Tax depending on what kind of accommodation you live in and who you live with. Council Tax pays for local services, such as refuse collection and the police. Some properties are 'exempt', which means no Council Tax is payable at all and there will be no bill. In most cases if the only people living in the property are full-time students on an undergraduate or taught postgraduate course, then there will be no charge for Council Tax.

To find out more about Council Tax, please see: www.gov.uk/council-tax/working-out-your-council-tax

Electrical equipment

The British electricity supply works on 240 volts/50 cycles and most buildings have sockets which take a 13-amp square, three-pin plug. Please check that any electrical equipment you bring from home can be used on this voltage or can be converted. You should be able to purchase an adapter in the UK but please note that it is dangerous to overload sockets or circuits with too many adapters and you should never put a two-pin plug in a three-pin socket.

Television (TV) licence

- You are required to have a TV licence if you use a TV or any other device to receive or record television programmes – for example, a laptop, PC, mobile phone, digital box, DVD recorder or a TV set.
- The TV Licensing website has a section for students where you can find out if you need a TV licence and how to apply. Please visit www.tvlicensing.co.uk

Keeping safe

It is important that you take responsibility for your own personal safety while you are living in the UK. Here are some tips to help keep you safe:

- ✓ Go out in a group and come home in a group.
- ✓ Stick to well-lit and well-used areas. Do not take shortcuts through dark and remote alleyways, parks and wasteland. Walk briskly and with confidence. Walk along the pavement facing oncoming traffic but keep back from the kerb. Keep clear of recesses such as doorways.
- ✓ Be alert to your surroundings. Don't walk whilst chatting on your mobile phone or with earphones in.
- ✓ If you have concerns about a particular situation, a group of people or an individual, keep away.
- ✓ Carry your keys in your pocket.
- ✓ If you think you are being followed, check by crossing the street. If you are worried, go to the nearest place where there are other people and call the police. Do not use a phone box.
- ✓ Excess alcohol will blur your judgement and senses and make you more vulnerable. Keep your drink in sight and don't accept drinks from people you don't know well.
- ✓ Be wary of meeting anyone on your own if you don't know them well.
