

Your essential student checklist

It's not long now until you join the University of Birmingham so here are a few last minute checks to get you ready.

1. Complete Online Registration

All new and returning students must complete Online Registration each academic year. You will have received an email to complete Online Registration, which will provide you with your student username and password.

2. Complete My Right to Study

International students who require a visa or immigration permissions to study in the UK will need to provide copies of important documents to prove that they have the right to study in the UK. You can use My Right to Study to provide these documents online before you arrive.

3. Check your student email

Your student email will be the main way that the University contacts you. Make sure you know how to check it, and do so regularly. You will also be able to access your email using the MyUoB app.

4. Know where to get your student ID card

If you are a student based in the UK, your ID card may be posted to you at your home address. If not, you will be able to collect your ID card on arrival.

5. Register with a doctor

You should be registered with a local GP (General Practitioner – doctor) so that you can access health care if you need it and local to your term-time address.

6. Ensure you get disability support

Tell us if you have a disability or long-term health condition, physical or sensory impairment, a mental health difficulty, autism, Asperger's syndrome and specific learning disabilities, such as dyslexia, dyspraxia and dyscalculia as soon as possible. We can offer you appropriate advice and support during your studies.

7. Stay Covid-safe

Read our advice and guidance on how to keep Covid safe. Understand when you need to self-isolate and get tested. Wear a face-covering indoors, where a safe two metre social distance cannot be maintained. Regularly wash your hands for 20 seconds, or use hand sanitiser. Make sure you socialise sensibly according to guidelines.

8. Get your Welcome timetable

Familiarise yourself with the Welcome timetable. There are a range of online and on-campus activities to help you settle in and feel at home. Make sure you know what events you should attend for your course, as well as other activities and events that you won't want to miss.
