

Corpus Linguistics Summer School
University of Birmingham, 5 – 8 July 2021

	Monday 5 July	Tuesday 6 July	Wednesday 7 July	Thursday 8 July
10:00 – 11:00	10:00 – 10:10 Akira Murakami Welcome 10:10 – 11:10 Michaela Mahlberg Introduction to corpus linguistics	Laurence Anthony Getting started in corpus analysis: General corpus methods	Adam Schembri Towards a corpus linguistics of signed languages	Nicholas Groom Rethinking phraseology in corpus linguistics
11:30 – 12:30	Laurence Anthony Creating a custom corpus for research: A good practice guide	Participant presentations	Jason Grafmiller Web scraping with R	Participant presentations
13:30 – 14:30	Florent Perek Introduction to CQPweb	Bodo Winter Introduction to the tidyverse	Karen McAuliffe and Virginia            Mattioli Corpus linguistics and legal studies: Multilingual law	Petar Milin and Laurence Romain The desolation of (machine) learning: An unexpected journey to corpus linguistics
15:00 – 16:00	Participant presentations	Jack Grieve Computational sociolinguistics	Participant presentations	Paul Thompson Introduction to Sketch Engine
16:30 - 17:30	Bodo Winter Introduction to base R	Bethany Gray Analyzing grammatical complexity: Advanced searching in AntConc using POS-tagged corpora and regular expressions	Bethany Gray Multi-dimensional analysis	Akira Murakami Topic models in R
				18:00 – 19:00 [Sinclair Lecture] Dagmar Divjak Of wo/men and machines: An interdisciplinary take on language in use

