BASIL Trials Investigators' Meeting

Message from the BASIL Trials
Chief Investigator, Prof. Andrew Bradbury

"The BASIL Trials team held a successful Investigators' Meeting in Birmingham on 6 June 2018. The BASIL team and I were delighted to see so many sites represented and good engagement during the panel discussions. The BASIL team and I appreciate that many of the attendees travelled great distances and took time out of their busy schedules to attend, for which I am very grateful.

Thank you to all the speakers who gave interesting and engaging talks. I would particularly like to thank our colleagues who travelled from Sweden, Denmark, and the USA in order to represent their sites and discuss their successes with the BASIL trials.

There are early signs of an upswing in recruitment and we are confident this will continue after the summer break."

...AND THEY'RE OFF!!!
