Pregnancy ANtihypertensive Drugs: Which Agent is best?

@GiantPANDATrial

Over 1000 women in total have now been randomised! This is a huge milestone to achieve! Giant PANDA is the biggest trial to date investigating anti-hypertensive medication in pregnancy for non-severe hypertension.

THANK YOU to everyone who has made this possible! Keep up the momentum by offering the study to all women who are eligible.

We have exciting news!

The team have been thinking of different ways to acknowledge the hard work you are all do! We looked at the recruitment figures from the beginning of the year and developed a system to recognise and celebrate consistency with randomisations. There are 4 different levels of consistency and you will receive a certificate if this is reached

Bronze Award: Sites who randomised at least one woman per month for 3 months

Silver Award: Sites who randomised more than one woman per month for 3 months

Gold Award: Sites who randomised to target every month for 3 months

Platinum Award: Sites who exceed target every month for 3 months

For the months of January, February and March: 9 sites achieved Bronze, 3 sites achieved Silver, 5 sites achieved Gold & 2 sites achieved Platinum. We will be awarding these every 3 months.

Look out for your certificates in the post. Please do take pictures of the certificate with the team and send them on to us so that we can feature you in the next newsletter!
