Thursday June 25th 08:15-20:30.

Field excursion: Groundwater in Jurassic carbonates

CONVENOR

Professor Tim Atkinson, University College London

assisted by Dr Andy Farrant, British Geological Survey

JOINING INSTRUCTIONS

Due to the narrow roads this trip will be in two 17-seater minibuses which will arrive at the Main Entrance to the University, the East Gate (see map below) at 08:15 and will depart at 08:30 (or as soon as everyone is on board). Because we have a very full programme we must depart by 08:30 at the latest and we will not be able to wait for anyone who is delayed.

The usb-stick that you will receive at registration contains a copy of the Excursion Guidebook and you will also receive a printed copy on the coach. We will be providing a packed lunch with special arrangements for those who have informed us of their dietary requirements.

The excursion will include some walking over rough terrain and visits to two working quarries so you are advised to wear boots or strong shoes. English weather is notoriously unpredictable, even in June, so please bring appropriate waterproof clothing with you to Birmingham. There will be a short briefing meeting in the Avon Lounge on Wednesday 24th June immediately after the Conference closing session and by then we will have a better idea of the likely weather for the Excursion..

If you have any questions please email John Gunn (j.gunn.1@bham.ac.uk) and if you have problems on the morning of the 25th please phone John on 07890 291333.

Look forward to meeting you,

Tim & Andy
