

The rarity of finding people who will listen

Hello, my name is Simone Stabilini and I am the specialist advisor of the TAE project's Italian team.

My collaboration in this project has been positive and constructive: I have had the opportunity to meet people who are able to listen other people, and in today's world it is very rare to find people who are able to listen.

They said that my personal point of view has been very important for the project, however to me personally it seems to have done very little and I do not know how really my point of view could have been useful: I hope it was. I did not attend transnational meetings for various reasons, but I studied everything that was written about the project with care and commitment.

My judgment about the project and especially about the people I met is very positive. Thank you so much to all.

Simone

Simone Stabilini: Expert reference group, Italy